Simon 27 stands out for his efficient combination of a design with purely neutral lines that matches all types of modern environments, but also manages to give a fresh air to more classic environments. This series takes into account both appearance and functionality. If what you are looking for is the maximum security for a plug, this hinged cover with key for modular articles from the different series of Simon 27 Scudo series gives you the necessary peace of mind against theft, vandalism, all kinds of knocks and is a guarantee of security against any child tampering. But this cover does not only provides security and peace of mind, but also comfort as it is a hinged cover that can be opened with a key. As in all Simon 27 series products, its resistance to high and low temperatures is one of its features, reaching a maximum temperature of 50º and a minimum of -25º.
