BASIC INFORMATION

DESCRIPTION

The installation of music systems is increasingly common in private homes and companies, as it so you can improve the ambience in any situation, passing the warmest. Having elements that protejan these devices and prevent deterioration will keep them in better condition for much longer. To achieve this end, we have the Plate for ambient music regulators with engraved musical note in white colour of the series Simon 28. One of its great advantages is its simple installation, which can be carried out in minutes, being suitable for surface-mounted and recess. It has been manufactured with the best materials with thermoplastic components and is designed to withstand all kinds of temperatures and environments. For this reason, we are faced with a highly demanded piece in all types of public and private buildings.
