BASIC INFORMATION

DESCRIPTION

The security in electrical systems is the most important element in all the products designed by Simon since its beginnings in the sector, makes it more than one hundred years. A good example of this is found in the Cover with safety device for French socket-outlet white in colour of the range Simon 28. It is a cover suitable for both surface-mounted or to be flush mounted, its structure has been designed with thermoset materials that prevent any deterioration of its structure for accident or high temperature and humidity. The innovation in the safety devices that includes all the products of the Simon 88 series is the best guarantee of its parts, which have become the best ally for spaces with minors such as private homes, educational centres, hospitals children's or premises designed to leisure.
