

Cover for stereo speaker outlet graphite Simon 75

REF. 75082-38

BASIC INFORMATION

DESCRIPTION

Simon is a world leader in electrical technology with more than 5.500 references covering small electrical equipment and protection, electronics, remote management and telemetering of consumption point-to-point, security (access control, video surveillance, anti-intrusion, technical alarms), systems for voice, data and multimedia connection for work stations, pipelines, and indoor lighting for professional environments based on LED technology. This entire range includes the cover for stereo speaker jack in graphite of the Simon 75 series, the best piece to protect sound systems in homes and companies. It is a plate available in four finishes that stands out for its simple and quick installation both in surface-mounted and recessed in the wall. Its low price, the ease of cleaning and care of its structure and the quality of the thermoplastic materials with which it has been manufactured are other qualities of this loudspeaker socket cover.
