Sempio

Expanding the Culinary Horizon with Umami-Rich Korean Ingredients

Sempio was established in 1946, with its name standing as the oldest registered brand in Korea. Since the beginning, the company has been dedicating itself to manufacturing fermented food products – mainly soy based sauces – which are essential in the field of Korean cuisine. The quality and taste of the products are what gained our reputation as the country's number one household brand.

Add a rich and savory flavor to a wide variety of dishes without soy or gluten

A great plant-based alternative for bouillon, concentrated stocks, fish sauce or dashi
